

Fast DBF Editing Tool Gets Even Faster (And Is Still Affordable)

HiBase Group announces a new version of its demanded DBF management software, DBF Viewer 2000 v. 6.85. The program is a one-stop solution to literally dozens of common database administration tasks sold for a very affordable price tag. The new version improves performance and adds new exporting options.

When it comes to database management, it seems everything is said already. Indeed, the DBF format is old and there are plenty of tools to work with it in literally any way possible. However, the need for a decent DBF viewing and editing tool that would encompass most of common database administration activities is still here. And DBF Viewer 2000 developed by HiBase Group successfully aims to be such a tool.

Indeed, DBF Viewer 2000 offers a range of functions far beyond what the name suggests: users can work with database files of any size, add new data, change or removing fields, modify database structure and contents, filter and search for information and so further. Exporting functions are also second to none. Specifically, DBF Viewer 2000 supports exporting to dozens of formats including CSV, XML, SQL and XLS/XLSX. The latter exporting option is what was improved in the latest update. The program now supports exporting the entire DBF structure to the XLSX format.

The new version also offers significant performance upgrade when it comes to batch renaming of database fields. Provided batch operations are one of key features of DBF Viewer 2000, it seems the update will be well accepted by the respective community.

Overall, DBF Viewer 2000 can be recommended to system and database administrator, home and corporate users. The program works standalone without any third-party libraries or DLLs, and is very modest in terms of occupied disk space and memory consumption too. And since the price tag for such a tool is also very low, the audience of this database tool is virtually anyone more or less linked to editing or viewing DBF files.

Pricing and availability

DBF Viewer 2000 works in Windows XP/Vista/7/8 and 10, both 32- and 64-bit editions. The price of a personal license is $49.95. The business license costs $99.95. The site license costs $199.95, and $999.95 is asked for a worldwide unlimited license.
